ASK SWEEPING CHANGES IN FISHING LAWS

PROPOSED LAW LOWERS CATCH ON GAME FISH

EVERY FISH TAKEN EVEN THOSE
COUNTED IN CATCH

NUMBER IN POSSESSION OF FISH-ERMEN REDUCED FROM 25 TO 20

By HECTOR FERRIER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

St. Paul, Feb. 8.—Sweeping changes in the Minnesota fishing laws were asked in a bill introduced in the state senate today by Senators Fred W. Nesette, Orr, and George A. Turnham, Long Lake.

The proposed law would lower the maximum catch on nearly every class of game fish and would require that every fish taken from the water, regardless of the number thrown back, be counted in the catch.

Following are the most important changes in the fish laws proposed by the Nesette-Turnham bill:

Lake trout and salmon: daily catch limit cut from 10 to five and maximum possession reduced from 15 to 10.

Great Northern pike or pickerel: daily limit reduced from 15 to 10 and possession maximum from 25 to 20.

Crappies: daily limit cut from 15 to 10 and possession from 25 to 20.

Sand pike: daily catch reduced from 15 to eight and possession from 25 to 16.

Sunfish, rock bass and all other unspecified fish: daily catch reduced from 15 to 10 and maximum possession from 30 to 20.

Bass: the daily catch would remain at eight and possession increased from 15 to 16.

The bill would leave the limit on protected fish at 15 daily and the number in possession of a fisherman would be reduced from 25 to 20.

The Sullivan resolution for the creation of a state architect was prompted, the author said, by the report of the board of control which revealed that $22,820 had been spent in architect fees in the two-year period ending June 30, 1918.

Sullivan said he wanted to check up rumors that more than enough money was spent by the three state departments to merit creation of the new office.

The new teachers' retirement bill would include all teachers in public schools, corrective institutions and charitable institutions supported in whole or in part by the state.

One-half mill state tax would be collected annually for the fund and all teachers would pay $65 each year. A separate account would be kept for each teacher and each would be credited with 25 per cent of his or her savings. At the end of 10 years, 5 per cent would be added for each year of teaching service.

Retirement would be effected at the end of 30 years, if the teacher had attained the age of 55 years, and the manner in which the retirement money would be optional.

Other important developments in the senate included:

Introduction of a bill by Senator Alfred L. Thwing, Grand Rapids, and four others, which would abolish the present teachers' retirement fund and create a new fund with different provisions.

Senator Charles E. Adams, Duluth, introduced a bill calling for an appropriation for $15,000 each for the two coming years for the Minnesota Safety Council.

Senator George A. Turnham, Long Lake, introduced a new highway police bill which differed from the one introduced Thursday only in that it would establish no maximum on the number of police employed.

Senator Fred W. Nesette, Orr, introduced a bill which would increase the salary of the president of the Minnesota state agricultural college from $1,000 to $2,500 a year.

YOUNG AND MORGAN NOW AT CHERBOURG

Cherbourg, Feb. 8.—(UP)—Owen D. Young and J. Pierpont Morgan, unofficial United States representatives at the conference of war reparations experts, arrived today aboard the liner Aquitania. Representatives of the French government and the local chamber of commerce greeted them. They boarded a train for Paris immediately after the welcome.

France to Demand 8 Million Quota of Germany

PACIFIC SEARCHED BY RADIO FOR LOST STEAMER

Manila, P. I., Feb. 8.—(UP)—The Pacific was searched by radio today for the steamer Ilyria, which left Boston, Mass., last October on a scientific expedition and is reported long overdue at the territory of Ruk in the Caroline islands.

The Ilyria, bearing a group of scientists headed by Dr. Karl P. Schmidt of the Field museum and Dr. Albert W. Herre of Leland Stanford university, was enroute here by way of the Carolines (New Philippines) and Fiji islands. It has not reported its position since January 12, when it reported it was 600 miles west of Ruk. Ruk province is 1,350 miles east of here.

It was pointed out that the Ilyria might have grounded on one of the many uncharted reefs near the Carolines and that with its engine room flooded might not be able to use its radio.

SENATE OIL INVESTIGATORS ARE IN DISPUTE

LATTER SOUGHT TO CRITICIZE PRESENT AND PAST HEADS OF JUSTICE DEPARTMENT

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 8.—(UP)—A dispute among the senate oil investigators who disclosed the Teapot Dome affair and probed the recently nullified Salt Creek lease is to be aired in the senate soon.

Differences have arisen among them over the rejected Walsh report which sought to criticize present and past officials of the justice and interior departments for delay in acting on the Salt Creek lease. These differences involve the whole progress of the oil investigations in recent years.

Interest of senators has been heightened because of the present battle between John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and Col. Robert W. Stewart of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana as a result of Stewart's connection with one of the oil inquiries.

For the first time since the oil investigations started republicans have rebelled in a body against the democrats on the committee. Discussion developed shortly after former Senator Thomas Sterling was selected as committee investigator.

Republicans privately have charged Sterling's selection was the work of democrats. His confidential report to the committee on the Salt Creek matter was inadequate, they charge.

It seemed this difference might be smoothed over in the committee's executive sessions, but Senator Thos. J. Walsh, democrat of Montana, has brought the matter to the floor by pressing for action by the senate on his report. Walsh's report was defeated in the committee, 7 to 6, all republicans voting against it and all democrats for it.

The senate continued today with the war department appropriation bill. Illinois and Missouri senators were holding the floor.

The house continued with the naval appropriation bill. Leaders generally were agreed they would make no effort to include the first year's appropriations for the new cruisers in the measure.

YEAR OF ACTIVITY IS RECORDED BY HUMANE SOCIETY

Chicago, Feb. 8.—(UP)—The annual report of the Illinois Humane society revealed a year of activity described by the organization's leaders as the most successful in its history. The report revealed that sixty-five children, 10,100 goldfish, 192 white mice and 480 love birds were rescued from ill treatment and provided with temporary homes.

CLAIMS HOLD ON 51 PER CENT OF OIL STOCK

IF HE MAINTAINS THE LEAD, IT
BE OUSTED

POINT AT ISSUE IS WHETHER
SHALL RULE COMPANY

New York, Feb. 8.—(UP)—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., claims victory in the "battle of the proxies."

Winthrop Aldrich, attorney and representative of the Rockefeller interests, was on record today with the statement that he had proxies for 51 per cent of the stock of Standard Oil of Indiana.

If his estimate is correct and if he is able to hold that strength until March 7, it will mean that Col. Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of Standard of Indiana, will be ousted from his position when the stockholders assemble at Whiting, Ind., March 7, to decide whether Rockefeller or Stewart shall rule the company.

But Stewart promptly struck back with a statement implying that Aldrich was not only over-confident but that his facts were incorrect.

George K. Bowden, Stewart's representative here, issued the following statement in behalf of his superior:

"It is obvious that Mr. Aldrich cannot be sure of what he has. First, he has no knowledge of changes in ownership of stock on the books of the company. Second, he has no record of the revocations of his proxies. Third, of course, he has no way of determining the number of revocations that are being made and will be made between now and March 7."

Bowden denied reports current in Wall Street yesterday that Stewart intended to resign before March 7.

Chicago, Feb. 8.—A personal plea

by Colonel Robert W. Stewart for support of his candidacy for re-election as chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana reached Indiana Standard stockholders today.

Stewart's personal plea for proxies was accompanied by a statement from a "stockholders' protective committee"—a "group of stockholders of long standing." In this statement, Col. Stewart's record was reviewed, stressing the fact that since Stewart "became chief executive in 1918, the market value of the company was increased from $170,000,000 to around $900,000,000."

Stewart forces refused to admit defeat and made public the personal plea made by Colonel Stewart.

SENATOR ROCKNE IN FIGHT FOR MORE BUILDINGS

SEEKING TO ENTER STATE INSTITUTIONS

ADDED AT FARIBAULT FOR FEEBLE-MINDED

St. Paul, Feb. 8.—(UP)—Senator A. J. Rockne, Zumbrota, chairman of the senate finance committee, and champion of the state's wards, today continued his fight for five additional buildings for Minnesota's unfortunate.

At a meeting of the finance committee late Thursday Senator Rockne declared that it was likely two additional buildings would be needed for the feeble-minded at Faribault and three for the epileptics at Cambridge if the overcrowded conditions in the institutions were to be relieved.

Members of the board of control informed the committee there were 447 feeble-minded persons now committed to the state but outside of institutions. Probate judges in answer to questionnaires sent out by Rockne, declared that many patients had been on waiting lists for months.

There was little question today but that Rockne would carry his fight for additional housing facilities to the floor of the senate and ultimately to the office of the governor.

KING GEORGE TO BE REMOVED TO SUSSEX

London, Feb. 8.—(UP)—The king will be moved to Bognor, Sussex, at 10:30 a. m. tomorrow, if the weather permits, his doctors announced in an official bulletin today.

The condition of the king's lungs now is normal, the bulletin said.

His majesty, after nearly three months of serious illness, will be taken to Craigwell House, overlooking the sea at Bognor, for his convalescence.

SAYS STATE SHOULD MAKE ITS OWN LICENSE PLATES

St. Paul, Feb. 8.—(UP)—An automobile license plate and road sign plant at the St. Cloud reformatory would pay for itself in two years, Mrs. Blanch La Du, member of the board of control, informed the senate finance committee late Thursday.

Mrs. La Du said the cost of the plant and the machinery would be approximately $50,000 and that the experience of 20 other states which have installed institution plants has shown that they pay for themselves in two or three years.

Senator J. D. Sullivan, St. Cloud, indicated that he would frame a bill providing for the erection of the plant at the reformatory.

PEACE ACCORD BETWEEN HOLY SEE AND ITALY

MENT

CEREMONY ORIGINALLY SET FOR SUNDAY, DELAYED BY CLERI-CAL WORK

Rome, Feb. 8.—(UP)—The accord of peace between the vatican and the Italian government will be signed Monday, it was announced officially by the vatican today.

The ceremony originally was set for Sunday, but was postponed because all the documents had not been prepared.

The official announcement and the text of the accord will be printed in the official vatican organ, Osservatore Romano, on Tuesday, the day the pope celebrates the seventh anniversary of his coronation. Instead of calling a secret conspiracy to announce the settlement, the pope probably will issue the announcement in an encyclical.

Tuesday's solemn pontifical mass will be a splendid pageant and a joint celebration of the coronation anniversary and the peace settlement. At its conclusion, the pope is expected to bless the whole world from the entrance of St. Peter's.

P. I. PEOPLE WANT THEIR INDEPENDENCE

JOINT RESOLUTION INTRODUCED
LEGISLATURE

LEGISLATIVE LEADERS ASSURED PROPOSAL WILL BE ADOPTED

Manila, P. I., Feb. 8.—(UP)—A joint resolution demanding that Philippine commissioners at Washington, D. C., work for immediate and complete independence of their native land was introduced in the special session of the island legislature here today.

The resolution said independence would be "the only solution for the honor and interests of both peoples," indicating those of the United States as well as their own.

Legislative leaders said adoption of the proposal was assured. The move was considered particularly significant because it indicated the failure of efforts to "soft pedal" Philippine independence agitation lest congress listen to pleas for adoption of anti-Philippine tariff laws.

FRENCH STAND SUMMARIZED BY UNITED PRESS

GERMANY MUST REIMBURSE FOR FRENCH WAR DEBTS TO U. S.
AND ENGLAND

TEUTONS MUST PAY ON SCHED-ULE OF FIXED ANNUAL ANNUITIES

By WEBB MILLER
(Copyright, 1920, by United Press)

Paris, Feb. 8.—France will demand of Germany a final and definite quota of something like $8,190,000,000.

The United Press is authorized, from a highest official source, to present an outline of France's viewpoint to be submitted to the international committee of experts which is assembling here to settle the reparations problem, conclusively.

The French stand may be summarized in the following five points:
1. France claims 102,000,000,000 francs ($3,978,000,000) for damage to her property, which would amount to between 130,000,000,000 and 140,000,000,000 francs when interest is included.

2. France renounces the right given to her in the Versailles treaty to make Germany pay for French war pensions.

3. Germany must reimburse France for the French war debts to the United States and England.

4. Germany must pay on a schedule of fixed annual annuities, instead of on a sliding scale.

5. France demands international commercialization of Germany's debts.

The total of $8,190,000,000 was indicated as France's final figure, although it was not stated categorically. It includes approximately 75,000,000,000 francs ($2,925,000,000).

It was pointed out that reparations annuities not only have reached 2,100,000,000 gold marks (about $600,000,000) annually, but must be increased in proportion to the economic capacity of the rich.

Before the war, Germany's annual increase in wealth was valued at 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 per cent. It is likely that the same estimate will be used now, in view of the industrial and productive possibilities of the country.

Under those conditions, the French claims would be amply covered by its percentage receipts under the Dawes plan.

NORTHCOTT IS UNPERTURBED BY DEATH SENTENCE

Riverside, Calif., Feb. 8.—(UP)—Gordon Stewart Northcott, youthful Wineville chicken rancher, seemed unperturbed by an inevitable death sentence today as he lounged in his county jail cell, convicted of slaying three young boys.

He maintained the game outward calm that marked his court appearance last night when he heard a jury report that he was guilty of first degree murder, with no recommendation for mercy.

The jury found Northcott guilty of the murders of Nelson Winslow, Lewis Winslow and an unidentified Mexican boy.

MRS. ANNE M. DIKE, FRENCH RELIEF AID, DIES IN PARIS

Paris, Feb. 8.—(UP)—Mrs. Anne Murray Dike of New York, president of the American committee for devastated France and one of the most prominent American women in Europe, died today.

Mrs. Dike was associated for years with Miss Anne Morgan in work in the devastated regions. She has been decorated with the Croix de Guerre and is an officer of the Legion of Honor.

ASK SWEEPING CHANGES IN FISHING LAWS

COUNTED IN CATCH
25 TO 20

By HECTOR PERRIER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
St. Paul, Feb. 8.—Sweeping changes in the Minnesota fishing laws were asked in a bill introduced in the state senate today by Senators Fred W. Nesette, Orr, and George A.
Turnham, Long Lake.

The proposed law would lower the maximum catch on nearly every class of game fish and would require that every fish taken from the water, regardless of the number thrown back, be counted in the catch.

Following are the most important changes in the fish laws proposed by the Nesette-Turnham bill:

Lake trout and salmon: daily catch limit cut from 10 to five and maximum possession reduced from 15 to 10.

Great Northern pike or pickerel:
daily limit reduced from 15 to 10 and possession maximum from 25 to 20.

Crappies: daily limit cut from 15 to 10 and possession from 25 to 20.
Sand pike: daily catch reduced from 15 to eight and possession from 25 to 16.

Sunfish, rock bass and all other unspecified fish: daily catch reduced from 15 to 10 and maximum possession from 30 to 20.

Bass: the daily catch would remain at eight and possession increased from 15 to 16.

The bill would leave the limit on protected fish at 15 daily and the number in possession of a fisherman would be reduced from 25 to 20.

The Sullivan resolution for the creation of a state architect was prompted, the author said, by the report of the board of control which revealed that $22,820 had been spent in architect fees in the two-year period ending June 30, 1928.

Sullivan said he wanted to check up rumors that more than enough money was spent by the three state departments to merit creation of the new office.

The new teachers' retirement bill would include all teachers in public schools, corrective institutions and charitable institutions supported in whole or in part by the state.

One-half mill state tax would be collected annually for the fund and all teachers would pay $65 each year. A separate account would be kept for each teacher and each would be credited with 25 per cent of his or her savings. At the end of 10 years, 5 per cent would be added for each year of teaching service.

Retirement would be effected at the end of 30 years, if the teacher had attained the age of 55 years, and the manner in which the educators would draw their retirement money would be optional.

Other important developments in the senate included:

Introduction of a bill by Senator Alfred L. Thwing, Grand Rapids, and four others, which would abolish the present teachers' retirement fund and create a new fund with different provisions.

Senator Charles E. Adams, Duluth, introduced a bill calling for an appropriation for $15,000 each for the two coming years for the Minnesota Safety Council.

Senator George A. Turnham, Long Lake, introduced a new highway police bill which differed from the one introduced Thursday only in that it would establish no maximum on the number of police employed.

Senator Fred W. Nesette, Orr, introduced a bill which would increase the salary of the president of the Minnesota state agricultural college from $1,000 to $2,500 a year.

YOUNG AND MORGAN NOW AT CHERBOURG

Cherbourg, Feb. 8.—(U.P.)—Owen D.
Young and J. Pierpont Morgan, unofficial United States representatives at the conference of war reparations experts, arrived today aboard the liner Acquatic. Representatives of the French government and the local chamber of commerce greeted them.
They boarded a train for Paris immediately after the welcome.

France to Demand 8 Million Quota of Germany

PACIFIC SEARCHED BY RADIO FOR LOST STEAMER

Manila, P. I., Feb. 8.—(U.P.)—The Pacific was searched by radio today for the steamer Illyria, which left Boston, Mass., last October on a scientific expedition and is reported long overdue at the territory of Ruk in the Caroline islands.

The Illyria, bearing a group of scientists headed by Dr. Karl P.
Schmidt of the Field museum and
Dr. Albert W. Herre of Leland Stanford university, was enroute here by way of the Carolines (New Philippines) and Fiji islands. It has not reported its position since January 12, when it reported it was 600 miles west of Ruk. Ruk province is 1,950 miles east of here.

It was pointed out that the Illy-ria might have grounded on one of the many uncharted reefs near the Carolines and that with its engine room flooded might not be able to use its radio.

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Washington, Feb. 8.—(U.P.)—A dispute among the senate oil investigators who disclosed the Teapot Dome affair and probed the recently nullified Salt Creek lease is to be aired in the senate soon.

Differences have arisen among them over the rejected Walsh report which sought to criticize present and past officials of the justice and interior departments for delay in acturing on the Salt Creek lease. These differences involve the whole progress of the oil investigations in recent years.

Interest of senators has been heightened because of the present battle between John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and Col. Robert W. Stewart of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana as a result of Stewart's connection with one of the oil inquiries.

For the first time since the oil investigations started republicans have rebelled in a body against the democrats on the committee. Dis-ension developed shortly after former Senator Thomas Sterling was selected as committee investigator.

Republicans privately have charged Sterling's selection was the work of democrats. His confidential report to the committee on the Salt Creek matter was inadequate, they charge.

It seemed this difference might be smoothed over in the committee's executive sessions, but Senator Thos.
J. Walsh, democrat of Montana, has brought the matter to the floor by pressing for action by the senate on his report. Walsh's report was defeated in the committee, 7 to 6, all republicans voting against it and all democrats for it.

The senate continued today with the war department appropriation bill. Illinois and Missouri senators were holding the floor.

The house continued with the naval appropriation bill. Leaders generally were agreed they would make no effort to include the first year's appropriations for the new cruisers in the measure.

YEAR OF ACTIVITY IS RECORDED BY HUMANE SOCIETY

Chicago, Feb. 8.—(U.P.)—The annual report of the Illinois Humane society revealed a year of activity described by the organization's leaders as the most successful in its history. The report revealed that sixty-five children, 10,100 goldfish, 192 white mice and 430 love birds were rescued from ill treatment and provided with temporary homes.

John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Claims Victory In Battle of Proxies With Col. R. W. Stewart

CLAIMS HOLD ON 51 PER CENT OF OIL STOCK

IF HE MAINTAINS THE LEAD, IT
BE OUSTED

POINT AT ISSUE IS WHETHER

New York, Feb. 8.—(U.P.)—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., claims victory in the "battle of the proxies."

Winthrop Aldrich, attorney and representative of the Rockefeller interests, was on record today with the statement that he had proxies for 51 per cent of the stock of Standard Oil of Indiana.

If his estimate is correct and if he is able to hold that strength until March 7, it will mean that Col. Robert W. Stewart, chairman of the board of Standard of Indiana, will be ousted from his position when the stockholders assemble at Whiting, Ind., March 7, to decide whether Rockefeller or Stewart shall rule the company.

But Stewart promptly struck back with a statement implying that Aldrich was not only over-confident but that his facts were incorrect.

George K. Bowden, Stewart's representative here, issued the following statement in behalf of his superior:

"It is obvious that Mr. Aldrich cannot be sure of what he has. First, he has no knowledge of changes in ownership of stock on the books of the company. Second, he has no record of the revocations of his proxies. Third, of course, he has no way of determining the number of revocations that are being made and will be made between now and March 7."

Bowden denied reports current in Wall Street yesterday that Stewart intended to resign before March 7.

by Colonel Robert W. Stewart for support of his candidacy for re-election as chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana reached Indiana Standard stockholders today.

Stewart's personal plea for proxies was accompanied by a statement from a "stockholders' protective committee"—a "group of stockholders of long standing." In this statement, Col. Stewart's record was reviewed, stressing the fact that since Stewart "became chief executive in 1918, the market value of the company was increased from $170,000, 000 to around $900,000,000."

Stewart forces refused to admit defeat and made public the personal plea made by Colonel Stewart.

St. Paul, Feb. 8.—(U.P.)—Senator
A. J. Rockne, Zumbrota, chairman of the senate finance committee, and champion of the state's wards, today continued his fight for five additional buildings for Minnesota's unfortunates.

At a meeting of the finance committee late Thursday Senator Rockne declared that it was likely two additional buildings would be needed for the feeble-minded at Faribault and three for the epileptics at Cambridge if the overcrowded conditions in the institutions were to be relieved.

Members of the board of control informed the committee there were 447 feeble-minded persons now committed to the state but outside of institutions. Probate judges in answer to questionnaires sent out by Rockne, declared that many patients

There was little question today but the floor of the senate and ultimately to the office of the governor.

formed the senate finance committee late Thursday.

Mrs. La Du said the cost of the plant and the machinery would be approximately $50,000 and that the experience of 20 other states which have installed institution plants has shown that they pay for themselves in two or three years.

Senator J. D. Sullivan, St. Cloud, indicated that he would frame a bill providing for the erection of the plant at the reformatory.

CEREMONY ORIGINALLY SET FOR SUNDAY, DELAYED BY CLERI- CAL WORK

Rome, Feb. 8.—(U.P.)—The accord of peace between the vatican and the Italian government will be signed Monday, it was announced officially by the vatican today.

The ceremony originally was set for Sunday, but was postponed because all the documents had not been prepared.

The official announcement and the text of the accord will be printed in the official vatican organ, Observatore Romano, on Tuesday, the day the pope celebrates the seventh anniversary of his coronation. Instead of calling a secret conspiracy to announce the settlement, the pope probably will issue the announcement in an encyclical.

Tuesday's solemn pontifical mass will be a splendid pageant and a joint celebration of the coronation anniversary and the peace settlement. At its conclusion, the pope is expected to bless the whole world from the entrance of St. Peter's.

P. I. PEOPLE WANT THEIR INDEPENDENCE

JOINT RESOLUTION INTRODUCED IN THE PHILIPPINE LEGISLATURE

LEGISLATIVE LEADERS ASSURED PROPOSAL WILL BE ADOPTED

Manila, P. I., Feb. 8.—(U.P.)—A joint resolution demanding that Philippine commissioners at Washington, D. C., work for immediate and complete independence of their native land was introduced in the special session of the island legislature here today.

The resolution said independence would be "the only solution for the honor and interests of both peoples," indicating those of the United States as well as their own.

Legislative leaders said adoption of the proposal was assured. The move was considered particularly significant because it indicated the failure of efforts to "soft pedal" Philippine independence agitation last congress listen to pleas for adoption of anti-Philippine tariff laws.

FRENCH STAND SUMMARIZED BY UNITED PRESS

GERMANY MUST REIMBURSE FOR FRENCH WAR DEBTS TO U. S. AND ENGLAND

TEUTONS MUST PAY ON SCHED- ULE OF FIXED ANNUAL ANNUITIES

By WEBB MILLER
(Copyright, 1929, by United Press)

Paris, Feb. 8.—France will demand of Germany a final and definite quota of something like $8,190,- 000.

The United Press is authorized, from a highest official source, to present an outline of France's viewpoint to be submitted to the international committee of experts which is assembling here to settle the reparations problem, conclusively.

The French stand may be summarized in the following five points:
1. France claims 102,000,000,000 francs ($3,978,000,000) for damage to her property, which would amount to between 130,000,000,000 and 140,000,000,000 francs when interest is included.

2. France renounces the right given to her in the Versailles treaty to make Germany pay for French war pensions.

3. Germany must reimburse France for the French war debts to the United States and England.

4. Germany must pay on a schedule of fixed annual annuities, instead of on a sliding scale.

5. France demands international commercialization of Germany's debts.

The total of $8,190,000,000 was indicated as France's final figure, although it was not stated categori-cally. It includes approximately 75,000,000,000 francs ($2,925,000,- 000).

It was pointed out that reparations annuities not only have reached 2-100,000,000 gold marks (about $600,- 000,000) annually, but must be increased in proportion to the economic capacity of the rich.

Before the war, Germany's annual increase in wealth was valued at 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 per cent. It is likely that the same estimate will be used now, in view of the industrial and productive possibilities of the country.

Under those conditions, the French claims would be amply covered by its percentage receipts under the Dawes plan.

Riverside, Calif., Feb. 8.—(U.P.)—Gordon Stewart Northcott, youthful Wine-ville chicken rancher, seemed unperturbed by an inevitable death sentence today as he lounged in his county jail cell, convicted of slaying three young boys.

He maintained the game outward calm that marked his court appearance last night when he heard a jury report that he was guilty of first degree murder, with no recommendation for mercy.

The jury found Northcott guilty of the murders of Nelson Winslow, Lewis Winslow and an unidentified Mexican boy.

MRS. ANNE M. DIKE, FRENCH RELIEF AID, DIES IN PARIS

Paris, Feb. 8.—(U.P.)—Mrs. Anne Murray Dike of New York, president of the American committee for devastated France and one of the most prominent American women in Europe, died today.

Mrs. Dike was associated for years with Miss Anne Morgan in work in the devastated regions. She has been decorated with the Croix de Guerre and is an officer of the Legion of Honor.

Cherbourg, France, Feb. 8.—(U.P.)— Harry Manning, acting master of the S. S. America, and the crew of the vessel were presented with medals by the Cherbourg Chamber of Commerce today in honor of their recent rescue of the crew of the Italian freighter Florida.

Los Angeles---New York---18 Hours

As the Hawks flies, as shown on the map, Los Angeles is closer to New York than most people will believe. Captain Hawks, right, and Mechanic Grubb completed the run in faster time than any human to date. Mrs. Hawks left, says she was never in doubt as to the success of her husband in his record breaking flight.

The Musical club program for Saturday afternoon, February 9, at Elks hall promises to be one of the best home talent programs ever given in Brainerd, and it is to be hoped that those who give so freely of their time and talents will be rewarded by a capacity audience.

The piano solos will be given by Mrs. W. A. M. Johnstone's most talented pupils—the same ones who gave such a delightful two-piano recital in the Congregational church last year. Their numbers are among the most brilliant that could be selected from good composers.

The Choral club has also chosen popular numbers. The Lorelei, is said to be dramatic, as well as a delightful musical composition. This may be used in the district competition for the cup.

Everybody likes to hear Miss Cora Rickard sing and her numbers are also well chosen. The program is sufficiently varied to appeal to many more tastes than the program of any single artist.

But there is another reason why every member of the Musical club should try to be present on Saturday. It is election and the size of the audience will indicate the interest in the club. Almost anyone will hesitate to take the presidency if the rank and file of the members do not show sufficient interest to take the trouble to go and vote.

HARD WATER PLUS MELO MAKES SOFT WATER

This is a

SOAP and hard water make scum. The hardness in the water combines with the soap. The scum collects dirt. There is a dirty ring around the dishpan, the washtubs, the bathtub. But soften hard water with Melo and no scum forms.

Water softened with Melo is a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap. It makes the soap much more effective, too, saving from 1/3 to 1/2 the amount ordinarily used. Melo only costs 10 cents a can. The company has acquired and is at present developing a beaver ranch near Duluth, he reported.

From the gross dividend announced, 8 per cent is taken for operating expenses and the rest divided equally between the company and its unit holders. The Brainerd unit is located in Oak Lawn township, 12 miles east of Brainerd on Highway No. 2. Several thousand muskrats are property of the company at the Brainerd-Oak Lawn ranch. The company contemplates raising beaver and chinchilla rabbits in connection with the muskrat ranch this year.

alone, is the requisite for winning a prize in this new game that succeeds the Chicago Herald and Examiner's immensely popular "Scrambled Comics" contest.

It is called "The Game of President Hoover and his Cabinet." The Sunday Herald and Examiner will give the complete details. But they are briefly summed up as follows:

All one has to do is to cut out and reassemble the faces of well-known men. Pictures of the originals are given for guidance. Then the contestant names the candidate and tells what office he would best fill. Sounds simple, doesn't it.

This week, $2,500 will be split up among 65 winners. The amounts have been doubled over last week's. The first award is $1,000. The second, $500. Third, fourth and fifth, $250, $100 and $50 respectively. And the 60 other winners get $10 each.

HARD WATER PLUS MELO MAKES SOFT WATER.

This is a hard-water country

SOAP and hard water make scum. The hardness in the water combines with the soap. The scum collects dirt. There is a dirty ring around the dishpan, the washtubs, the bathtub. But soften hard water with Melo and no scum forms.

Water softened with Melo is a wonderful cleaner, with or without soap.
It makes the soap much more effective, too, saving from 1/3 to 1/2 the amount ordinarily used. Melo only costs 10 cents a can. You can afford to buy 5 cans and keep one in the kitchen, one in the laundry, and one in the bathroom. Get it at your grocer's.

BRAINERD'S THEATER SITUATION

THE theater situation in Brainerd seems to have resolved itself into a lot of promises made and nothing carried out. We refer first to the announcement made at the Chamber of Commerce meeting when the then president, R. E. Wyatt, reported making a trip specially to Minneapolis to see Finkelstein & Ruben and when their Mr. Chubberty was sent to Brainerd and in a public address before over a hundred citizens said improvements of $50,000 at the Park theater were to be recommended by him.

So far the $50,000 improvements or even an integral part of the sum promised has not been made at the Park.

Then came the Finkelstein & Ruben convention of managers at Breezy Point and the town did what it could to entertain them while on their way to the resort. A promise was made that Brainerd was to be the first city outside of Duluth and the Twin Cities to get the "talkies."

Have we got them? We have not. St. Cloud, Bemidji and even Staples are in line or have been supplied, while Brainerd lags.

Aitkin is a town of about 1,500 population. Here is what the Aitkin Republican records headed, "Aitkin to Have Talkies":

"On the fourth or fifth of February Manager Charles E. Lyons of the Muevum theater will go to Minneapolis where he will attend a demonstration of several new types of the newest thing in moviedom, the "talkies." Mr. Lyons announces that it is his intention to make a selection at that time and that he proposes to have one of the best machines available installed in the local theater within 90 days. The purchase will entail a $7,000 investment, and the special films and records will also mean additional expense, but Mr. Lyons is anxious to make the Muevum one of the leading entertainment houses of Northern Minnesota, and to anticipate the progress that this community is steadily making."

In his inaugural address as president of the Chamber of Commerce Attorney C. A. Ryan gave as one his endeavors the improvement of the theater situation in Brainerd. It is hoped all citizens will back the Chamber and its president in his plans.

At the Rotary club meeting last Tuesday, the local manager said Finkelstein & Ruben would have an announcement to make this month of February.

Things move quickly in Brainerd these days and with many lines of merchandising being invaded by new firms, it is not unreasonable to suppose that there may be surprising developments in the theater situation.

A GOOD IDEA

A NEWSPAPER reporter in a western city got an idea. He went to the jail on Thanksgiving day when the prisoners were dining on turkey and dressing, mince pie and ice cream, and enjoying an entertainment program prepared for them by the good people of the city.

He looked through the prisoners' records and found several names of men who were serving terms for abandoning their families or refusing to provide properly for their children. Then the reporter went out and looked up the families of these men. He found most of the abandoned children in misery. Some were being cared for by their heroic mothers who were working hard at illy-paid tasks to feed them.

The reporter's idea was that delinquent fathers should be made to work and be paid a living wage by the city, instead of being kept in idleness and the comparative comfort of the modern jail, the money to go to support of the families. He would keep dad boxed up until he got the work habit so thoroughly that he would continue it outside.

It would not do to abandon the idea of punishing evildoers. The experience of centuries proves that punishment pays. But it is not humane or intelligent to punish the innocent along with the guilty. The incarcerated offender should be made to support his dependents. It would soon be found that most men would prefer to work outside prison than inside.—Fl. Worth Star-Telegram.

MATRIMONY AND THE LAW

INTRODUCED in the Legislature after a series of defeats in former sessions, a bill requiring a five-day waiting period before issuance of marriage licenses has met another reverse. The House public welfare committee has voted unfavorably on the measure, says the St. Paul Dispatch.

Committee members objected that the bill would encourage common law marriages. It is called an optimists' device to legislate good judgment into the love-love. But perhaps a law encouraging people to consider the wisdom of matrimony after their marriage would be much more generally observed.

However, the plan would have some useful results. It might forestall some of the foolish alliances which now result in clogging the divorce courts. It would constitute at least a gesture by the State in discouragement of sudden and clandestine marriages. The waiting period would present a real obstacle to bigamous unions and to other illegal marriages such as those of epileptic, feeble-minded and insane persons.

The measure is carefully drawn to avoid placing any real hardship on anyone. It does not appear to place unjustifiable impediments in the way of marriage. Wisconsin has similar legislation and the most serious complaint against it is that residents who wish to marry hastily or secretly cross the line into Minnesota for licenses. Minnesota could very well forego this kind of boot-leg trade. The bill on the whole appears moderate and intelligent and deserving a favorable consideration by the Legislature.

THE OPEN ROAD IN WINTER

NOT so long ago it was customary to accept blockaded winter roads and to wait for sun and thaw to open them. Nowadays the action of Commissioner C. M. Babcock in keeping his trunk lines open has stimulated cities to keep their streets plowed, counties and townships to plow out their roads, and the farmers themselves in communities to plow out the balance.

What does it mean in the final analysis? It enables the farmer to bring his cream and milk regularly to town or creamery. It enables him to trade in town. It enables the doctor from the city to make his calls upon patients. It keeps town and country in communication. It enables mail service to continue without interruption. It means much in every way.

The other day a Brainerd matron who formerly lived on the Cuyuna iron range saw 25 friends from the range in a single store in Brainerd.

HITCHCOCK IN HIS REVIEW OF LEGISLATURE

SAYS STATE TAXES HAVE PRACTICALLY STOOD STILL FOR EIGHT YEARS

TAXES OF CITIES, VILLAGES, TOWNSHIPS, COUNTIES MOUNT HIGHER.

By R. W. HITCHCOCK
Representative, 60th District

St. Paul, Feb. 8.—A member of the legislature in Minnesota does not often desire to relinquish his office. But in case he should desire to give it up, how does he go about it? He may die, or he may be expelled. Neither of these methods are popular. Inasmuch as the attorney general has ruled that he cannot resign, your colon does his best to stick it out for the full term to which he was elected.

Those two inescapables, death and taxes, are another hard alternative. Life is one long struggle to escape or to reduce taxes. Since civilization was invented, nobody has been able to escape taxes, and we are beginning to fear that they are not reducible. Taxes mount as easily and, it seems, as inevitably as sparks fly upward. During the past twenty years in Minnesota the total taxes levied upon the people have leaped upward at the rate of $5,000,000 a year—from 28 millions to 130 millions.

State an Exception
If there is any exception to the rule, it is the State of Minnesota whose taxes during the past eight years have practically stood still, while the taxes of cities and villages, townships, counties and schools have mounted from 96 millions to 130 millions.

The abundant streams of revenue which gushed forth when Alexander Hamilton struck the rock of public credit were only rivulets compared to the flood that swept into the national treasury when congress smote the income tax rock. Easy come, easy go. Where congress once seriously debated its thousands and its tens of thousands, it now disposes of its millions and its tens of millions over the tea cups. Tomorrow a billion will be only a modest morning's work.

The local subdivisions of government in Minnesota have piled tax on tax until today government in Minnesota exacts a tribute of 130 millions from its people. If we groan under the burden of taxes, it is the crushing weight of local taxes that overwhelms us, not the comparatively modest expenses of the state, which, in an era of riotous tax living, has practiced a notable and a praiseworthy economy. Out of the total of 130 millions of taxes levied throughout the state, the state itself is chargeable with less than 9 millions. For local government, 93 per cent of the grand total; for state government, 7 per cent — and the state turns back to the localities more than one-half of that 7 per cent.

A Notable Record
Following the war governmental expenses took the upward curve along with other costs. Appropriations by the legislature rose from 22 millions to 40 millions, but, while the cost of local government and the appropriations of other states steadily mounted, the appropriations of the Minnesota legislature have now stood at 40 millions for three consecutive sessions.

Minnesota has not borrowed from Peter to pay Paul in order to make this record — that is, the state has not saved the taxpayer of today at the expense of the taxpayer of tomorrow. It has been as careful and conservative in the matter of burdening itself with obligations as it has in the matter of its daily outgo.

The total debt of the cities and villages, the townships, the counties and the school districts of Minnesota in 1924, the last year for which figures are available, was 240 millions. It is undoubtedly more today. Contrast with that huge sum the comparatively insignificant state debt of 4 millions. This figure, of course, does not include road bonds or rural credit bonds which, it is expected, will be paid from receipts other than the proceeds of taxation. This four million of state debt will be reduced to 3 million before the end of the year.

More than that the state will by the close of 1929 have in its permanent trust funds more than 70 millions of dollars!

Where Does It Come From?

Where does the state get the money that it spends? From direct taxation, from indirect taxes and from the receipts of various state departments and state activities.

Excluding the state one mill road tax and the state one mill school tax, which are not state taxes at all, but which are merely taxes collected by the state and turned over to the various local subdivisions of government — excluding these two taxes, the state has raised by direct taxation during the past two years an average of a little less than 9 million dollars per year.

Gross earnings taxes on railroads, express and telephone companies, etc., now exceed 9 millions per year. Other indirect taxes, including the occupation tax on iron ore, are about 5 millions per year.

It is a notable fact that the state government itself—that is, the various departments such as the auditor's office, the secretary of state's office, the department of game and fish, etc., are largely self supporting. The direct taxes paid by the people of the state for running the actual machinery of the state government are so insignificant that they are comparable only to the penny you drop into the ubiquitous weighing machine to find out how much you must reduce.

How Does It Go?

How does the state spend its money? What is the machinery of it?

The state disburses its funds principally in two ways. Some standing tax levies are provided by law, either for stated or for indefinite periods. For instance, the state university receives the proceeds every year, in addition to any appropriations made it by the legislature, of a levy of 25-100 of a mill. This amounts to about $425,000 per year and is to be continued indefinitely. During the past ten years, also, the university, in addition to all appropriations made by the legislature, has received $500,000 each year from an annual tax levy for building purposes—the so-called comprehensive building plan. The ten year period has now expired and the university is asking for another special levy for building purposes to amount to $300,000 per year and to continue for another ten year period. The teachers' retirement fund receives each year something less than $100,000 from a permanent state tax of 1-20 of a mill. The legislature, after the war, authorized the levy of a tax, which this year is 1-4 mills, to retire the soldiers' bonus certificates of indebtedness. This tax will disappear entirely in a year or two.

Appropriations
For the most part, however, the legislature disburses the state's funds by direct appropriations. It is this task which falls to the large and powerful committees called "finance" in the senate and "appropriations" in the house. A brief description of how these committees function will disclose the spending machinery.

The senate finance committee consists of 21 members, the house appropriations committee of 35 members, the membership numbering in each case more than one-fourth of the chamber.

For many years it has been the custom of these committees to hold "hearings" at which heads of departments, regents of the university, heads of the teacher's colleges and citizens generally present their requests for state support. Following these hearings the committees discuss the various requests and vote appropriations. The house appropriations committee two years ago held 77 such meetings.

Bills for Appropriations
The appropriations voted by the committees are presented to the senate and house in five appropriation bills. The largest of these is the educational bill which includes about one-half of all the appropriations made and supplies money for distribution to the public schools of the state, for the support of the university and the state teachers' colleges and for some other educational activities. Inasmuch as the legislature meets but once in two years, the appropriations are for the "biennium," the two year period. The total appropriations of the last three legislatures have been 30 million dollars for each biennium, and the educational bill carries approximately one-half of the total.

Other appropriation bills are the board of control measure which provides money for the maintenance of the various state institutions, such as the school for the blind, the state reformatory, the asylums, etc. This bill will carry almost one-fourth of the total appropriations this year or close to 10 million dollars for the two year period. The state department bill will carry some 8 millions and the state activities bill, which includes parks, fish hatcheries and numerous other undertakings, will approximate 2 millions. A fifth bill will care for various claims against the state and will amount to only some thousands of dollars.

When Greek Meets Greek
When these appropriation bills come into the senate and the house from the committees they are printed and lie over for a few days to give every member of the legislature a chance to examine them. They are then explained in detail by the chairman of the committee and any member of the chamber may offer amendments. It is extremely exceptional, however, when any change is made from an appropriation bill as recommended by the committee.

The appropriation bills as drafted by the senate and house committees are never exactly alike which necessitates the appointment of a conference committee from each chamber. When conference meets conference then comes the tug of war. It is the struggle of these conference committees to agree which sometimes prolongs the life of the session beyond the legal midnight limit of the last legislative day. In the sessions of 1925 and 1927 conference committees fought all night over the details of some of these appropriation bills, and for a time in the 1927 session it seemed that the conferees would be unable to agree and that an extra session of the legislature might be precipitated.

Guardians of the Treasury

It is fitting that we should here pay a richly deserved tribute to three men, all still living, who are no longer members of the legislature, but who sat in the house in many sessions, were stalwart members of the appropriations committee and of its sub committee on claims—three men who were among the most valuable to the state ever sent to a Minnesota legislature from any district. Thoughtful, earnest, courageous men were these Three Guardians. From their initiative the state benefited much, and from their courage even more. They saved the state its thousands and its tens of thousands, they prevented the passage of much ill-considered legislation, their keen criticism whipped many a law into workable shape. Teigen of Jackson, Jacobson of Rock, Hangland of Chippewa, veritable watch-dogs of the treasury! Doubtless the voters will be able to raise up other Daniels unto us, but we fear we shall never again at one time see the like of these Three Guardians.

The Big Three
Since the Legislature of 1925 the Economy and Efficiency Commission, which is high hat for "Big Three," has been functioning. Their duties are like unto the duties of similar commissions in Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania and other states. Some allege that they have too much power; however that may be, they have but a fraction of the power possessed through Governor Alfred E. Smith's much vaunted efficiency act in New York state.

One function of the Big Three is to prepare for the legislature a budget. Even the most bitter-ender among the opponents of the Minnesota reorganization act will admit that a budget is a good thing for an individual, a household or a commonwealth. Thru the budget the legislature has more and better information upon which to base its judgment as to appropriations than ever before.

Sets an Example

The State of Minnesota has been careful and conservative in its expenditure of public monies. In these days when taxes are mounting all too near to the confiscation point, the example of the state is one which its subdivisions have urgent need to heed.

The true purpose of a budget

Every year you spend a large proportion of the money you get. So much for clothing. So much for shoes. So much for things to eat—for house furnishings, books and what not.

Here is the way to get the most for your money.

Keep a budget. Decide what you can afford to spend for each item, and hold yourself within this amount.

Then—to get the most for your budget money read advertisements carefully. The advertisements you read tell you what is newest and best. They give you the latest ideas and improvements. They help you to get more from each dollar you have apportioned in your budget—and so live better and dress better with the same income.

The true purpose of a budget is to enable you to spend wisely—and only by careful reading of advertising can you hope to accomplish this result.

Read advertising regularly. It points the way to better living.

Babcock in keeping his trunk lines open has stimulated cities to keep their streets plowed, counties and townships to plow out their roads, and the farmers themselves in communities to plow out the balance.

What does it mean in the final analysis? It enables the farmer to bring his cream and milk regularly to town or creamery. It enables him to trade in town. It enables the doctor from the city to make his calls upon patients. It keeps town and country in communication. It enables mail service to continue without interruption. It means much in every way.

HITCHCOCK IN HIS REVIEW OF LEGISLATURE

SAYS STATE TAXES HAVE PRACTICALLY STOOD STILL FOR EIGHT YEARS

TAXES OF CITIES, VILLAGES, TOWNSHIPS, COUNTIES MOUNT HIGHER

By R. W. HITCHCOCK
Representative, 60th District

St. Paul, Feb. 8.—A member of the legislature in Minnesota does not often desire to relinquish his office. But in case he should desire to give it up, how does he go about it? He may die, or he may be expelled. Neither of these methods are popular. Inasmuch as the attorney general has ruled that he cannot resign, your colon does his best to stick it out for the full term to which he was elected.

Those two inescapables, death and taxes, are another hard alternative. Life is one long struggle to escape or to reduce taxes. Since civilization was invented, nobody has been able to escape taxes, and we are beginning to fear that they are not reducible. Taxes mount as easily and, it seems, as inevitably as sparks fly upward.

During the past twenty years in Minnesota the total taxes levied upon the people have leaped upward at the rate of $5,000,000 a year—from 28 millions to 130 millions.

State an Exception
If there is any exception to the rule, it is the State of Minnesota whose taxes during the past eight years have practically stood still, while the taxes of cities and villages, townships, counties and schools have mounted from 96 millions to 130 millions.

The abundant streams of revenue which gushed forth when Alexander Hamilton struck the rock of public credit were only rivulets compared to the flood that swept into the national treasury when congress smote the income tax rock. Easy come, easy go. Where congress once seriously debated its thousands and its tens of thousands, it now disposes of its millions and its tens of millions over the tea cups. Tomorrow a billion will be only a modest morning's work.

The local subdivisions of government in Minnesota have piled tax on tax until today government in Minnesota exacts a tribute of 130 millions from its people. If we groan under the burden of taxes, it is the crushing weight of local taxes that overwhelms us, not the comparatively modest expenses of the state, which, in an era of riotous tax living, has practiced a notable and a praiseworthy economy. Out of the total of 130 millions of taxes levied throughout the state, the state itself is chargeable with less than 9 millions. For local government, 93 per cent of the grand total; for state government, 7 per cent—and the state turns back to the localities more than one-half of that 7 per cent.

A Notable Record
Following the war governmental expenses took the upward curve along with other costs. Appropriations by the legislature rose from 22 millions to 40 millions, but, while the cost of local government and the appropriations of other states steadily mounted, the appropriations of the Minnesota legislature have now stood at 40 millions for three consecutive sessions.

Minnesota has not borrowed from Peter to pay Paul in order to make this record—that is, the state has not saved the taxpayer of today at the expense of the taxpayer of tomorrow. It has been as careful and conservative in the matter of burdening itself with obligations as it has in the matter of its daily outgo.

The total debt of the cities and villages, the townships, the counties and the school districts of Minnesota in 1924, the last year for which figures are available, was 240 millions. It is undoubtedly more today. Contrast with that huge sum the comparatively insignificant state debt of 4 millions. This figure, of course, does not include road bonds or rural credit bonds which, it is expected, will be paid from receipts other than the proceeds of taxation. This four million of state debt will be reduced to 3 million before the end of the year.

More than that the state will by the close of 1929 have in its permanent trust funds more than 70 millions of dollars!

Where Does It Come From?

Where does the state get the money that it spends? From direct taxation, from indirect taxes and from the receipts of various state departments and state activities.

Excluding the state one mill road tax and the state one mill school tax, which are not state taxes at all, but which are merely taxes collected by the state and turned over to the various local sub-divisions of government—excluding these two taxes, the state has raised by direct taxation during the past two years an average of a little less than 9 million dollars per year.

Gross earnings taxes on railroads, express and telephone companies,

etc., now exceed 9 millions per year. Other indirect taxes, including the occupation tax on iron ore, are about 5 millions per year.

It is a notable fact that the state government itself—that is, the various departments such as the auditor's office, the secretary of state's office, the department of game and fish, etc., are largely self supporting. The direct taxes paid by the people of the state for running the actual machinery of the state government are so insignificant that they are comparable only to the penny you drop into the ubiquitous weighing machine to find out how much you must reduce.

How Does It Go?

How does the state spend its money? What is the machinery of it?

The state disburses its funds principally in two ways. Some standing tax levies are provided by law, either for stated or for indefinite periods. For instance, the state university receives the proceeds every year, in addition to any appropriations made it by the legislature, of a levy of 23-100 of a mill. This amounts to about $125,000 per year and is to be continued indefinitely. During the past ten years, also, the university, in addition to all appropriations made by the legislature, has received $560,000 each year from an annual tax levy for building purposes—the so-called comprehensive building plan. The ten year period has now expired and the university is asking for another special levy for building purposes to amount to $300,000 per year and to continue for another ten year period. The teachers' retirement fund receives each year something less than $100,000 from a permanent state tax of 1-20 of a mill. The legislature, after the war, authorized the levy of a tax, which this year is 1 1/4 mills, to retire the soldiers' bonus certificates of indebtedness. This tax will disappear entirely in a year or two.

Appropriations

For the most part, however, the legislature disburses the state's funds by direct appropriations. It is this task which falls to the large and powerful committees called "finance" in the senate and "appropriations" in the house. A brief description of how these committees function will disclose the spending machinery.

The senate finance committee consists of 21 members, the house appropriations committee of 35 members, the membership numbering in each case more than one-fourth of the chamber.

For many years it has been the custom of these committees to hold "hearings" at which heads of departments, regents of the university, heads of the teacher's colleges and citizens generally present their requests for state support. Following these hearings the committees discuss the various requests and vote appropriations. The house appropriations committee two years ago held 77 such meetings.

Bills for Appropriations
The appropriations voted by the committees are presented to the senate and house in five appropriation bills. The largest of these is the educational bill which includes about one-half of all the appropriations made and supplies money for distribution to the public schools of the state, for the support of the university and the state teachers' colleges and for some other educational activities. Inasmuch as the legislature meets but once in two years, the appropriations are for the "biennium," the two year period. The total appropriations of the last three legislatures have been 40 million dollars for each biennium, and the educational bill carries approximately one-half of the total.

Other appropriation bills are the board of control measure which provides money for the maintenance of the various state institutions, such as the school for the blind, the state reformatory, the asylums, etc. This bill will carry almost one-fourth of the total appropriations this year or close to 10 million dollars for the two year period. The state department bill will carry some 8 millions and the state activities bill, which includes parks, fish hatcheries and numerous other undertakings, will approximate 2 millions. A fifth bill will care for various claims against the state and will amount to only some thousands of dollars.

When Greek Meets Greek

When these appropriation bills come into the senate and the house from the committees they are printed and lie over for a few days to give every member of the legislature a chance to examine them. They are then explained in detail by the chairman of the committee and any member of the chamber may offer amendments. It is extremely exceptional, however, when any change is made from an appropriation bill as recommended by the committee.

The appropriation bills as drafted by the senate and house committees are never exactly alike which necessitates the appointment of a conference committee from each chamber. When conference meets conference then comes the tug of war. It is the struggle of these conference committees to agree which sometimes prolongs the life of the session beyond the legal midnight limit of the last legislative day. In the sessions of 1925 and 1927 conference committees fought all night over the details of some of these appropriation bills, and for a time in the 1927 session it seemed that the conferees would be unable to agree and that an extra session of the legislature might be precipitated.

Guardians of the Treasury

It is fitting that we should here pay a richly deserved tribute to three men, all still living, who are no longer members of the legislature, but who sat in the house in many sessions, were stalwart members of the appropriations committee and of its sub-committee on claims—three men who were among the most valuable to the state ever sent to a Minnesota legislature from any district. Thoughtful, earnest, courageous men were these Three Guardians. From their initiative the state benefitted much, and from their courage even more. They saved the state its thousands and its tens of thousands, they prevented the passage of much ill-considered legislation, their keen criticism whipped many a law into workable shape. Teigen of Jackson, Jacobson of Rock, Hangland of Chippewa, veritable watch-dogs of the treasury! Doubtless the voters will be able to raise up other Daniels unto us, but we fear we shall never again at one time see the like of these Three Guardians.

The Big Three

Since the Legislature of 1925 the Economy and Efficiency Commission, which is high hat for "Big Three," has been functioning. Their duties are like unto the duties of similar commissions in Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania and other states. Some allege that they have too much power; however that may be, they have but a fraction of the power possessed through Governor Alfred E. Smith's much vaunted efficiency act in New York state.

One function of the Big Three is to prepare for the legislature a budget. Even the most bitter-end among the opponents of the Minnesota reorganization act will admit that a budget is a good thing for an individual, a household or a commonwealth. Thru the budget the legislature has more and better information upon which to base its judgment as to appropriations than ever before.

Sets an Example

The State of Minnesota has been careful and conservative in its expenditure of public monies. In these days when taxes are mounting all too near to the confiscation point, the example of the state is one which its subdivisions have urgent need to heed.

The true purpose of a budget

Every year you spend a large proportion of the money you get. So much for clothing. So much for shoes. So much for things to eat—for house furnishings, books and what not.

Here is the way to get the most for your money.

Keep a budget. Decide what you can afford to spend for each item, and hold yourself within this amount.

Then—to get the most for your budget money read advertisements carefully. The advertisements you read tell you what is newest and best. They give you the latest ideas and improvements. They help you to get more from each dollar you have apportioned in your budget—and so live better and dress better with the same income.

The true purpose of a budget is to enable you to spend wisely—and only by careful reading of advertising can you hope to accomplish this result.

Read advertising regularly. It points the way to better living.

EXPECT SHARKEY-STIBLING FIGHT TO GROSS $300,000

43,000 SEATS
IN ARENA AT MIAMI BEACH

CAREY, MILLIONAIRE PROMOTER, SAYS: "WELL, BOYS, THE FIGHT IS ON"

JACK SHARKEY IS TODAY PER-
AT TAMPA

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 8.—(UP)—Shortly before sunrise today, W. G. Carey, millionaire railroad builder and promoter of the Sharkey-Stibling fight, laid down some papers he had been inspecting and said happily, "Well, boys, the fight is on."

The scene was laid in a magnificent residence on the ocean front which Carey has taken as his headquarters. Carey's companions were Joe Boylton and Benny Bennett, box office men of Madison Square Garden, who had just laid before him the figures showing orders for seats of $200,000.

"Tex Rickard had started this thing and expecting to lose we were going through with it. Now, we are going to make money," Carey said.

Carey and Jack Dempsey were congratulating themselves today, saying the fight will gross more than $300,000, which will leave them in the clear, something neither expected.

When the big arena in Flamingo Park is completed next Tuesday, 43,000 seats will be available.

"Why," said one, "these seats are better than ringside."

They did not know the stands are to be moved back to allow for thirty rows of ringside seats.

Those bleachers are likely to be backed up close to Biscayne Bay by fight night.

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 8.—Jack Sharkey, the lonesome Lithuanian, who meets Bill Stibling in Miami Beach's heralded ring battle Feb. 27, had deserted this city today to perform for the Shriners of Tampa.

The Bostonian left last night for the Florida west coast where he will appear in a benefit exhibition show. He appeared in high spirits and predicted that three good blows would take care of his opponents of the evening.

Sharkey has gained the 'lonesome' appellation since his arrival here. Of all connected with the big fight, he alone seems unable to attract a crowd when he appears in public.

HIGH FIVE OFF TO PINE RIVER

TERMS; BRAINERD LOOKS TO VICTORY

Coach Warren Kasch and his revamped cage team were off for Pine River this afternoon to play the Pine River high school this evening.

Pine River lost to Crosby-Ironton last Friday by the score of 28 to 18. Brainerd also lost to Crosby-Ironton which should give the two teams an even break in strength tonight.

But a new team in spirit than the one that lost to Crosby-Ironton will oppose Pine River tonight.

The locals hope to make this a successful week by winning tonight, thus making two wins this week, the first win being over Bemidji Tuesday evening by the score of 16 to 15.

MANY CHANGES ARE MADE IN THE CLEVELAND INDIANS

WITHOUT NUMBERS
THIS YEAR

AND CATCHER

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Feb. 8.—It may be difficult to recognize the Cleveland Indians without numbers the coming season.

The familiar figures of George Burns, Homer Summa, Garland Buckeye, George Uhle, Emil Levens, Geo. Gerken and Elton Langford will be missing.

In building the Indians for the coming campaign, Billy Evans, general manager, and Roger Peckinpaugh, playing manager, have acquired 26 new players out of 35 on the roster.

Changes will be made at every position except second base, left field and behind the bat. The infield will be revamped with Lou Fouseca who broke his leg last season; Cliff Bolton, who hit .316 for Terre Haute; and Johnny Hodapp, former third baseman, contesting for first base. Carl Lind will be stationed at second and Joe Sewell will be moved from shortstop to third base.

Jackie Tavener, obtained from Detroit in the Uhle trade; John Burnett, who hit .326 for Terre Haute; Ray Gardner, who hit .303 for New Orleans; and John Goldman, who hit .275 for Decatur, will fight it out for shortstop. Burnett is a former University of Florida football star and is noted for his speed. Gardner was regarded as the best shortstop in the Southern League last year.

The Indians are still searching for some one to take the place of Tris Speaker. They hope Dick Porter, purchased from Baltimore for $40,000, will be able to plug the center-field gap. In eight years for Baltimore Porter batted for a grand average of .333. Charley Jamieson again will play left, but right will have a new gardener, probably Earl Averill, the $50,000 rookie from San Francisco.

Averill batted .353 in 1928. He hit 37 home runs last season.

Charley Dorman who hit .408 for the Tyler, Texas, Lone Star League club; John Gill, who hit .311 for the Decatur team and Ollie Tucker from New Orleans are other outfield candidates.

Ed Morgan, who suffered from injuries last season but batted .313 in 76 games, also will try for the outfield.

Among the nine new hurriers are several with exceptional promise. Three of the most prominent are Clint Brown, who won 23 games and lost 8 for the Harrisburg, Pa., club of the New York-Pennsylvania League; Wesley Farrell, who won 18 games and lost 9 for Terre Haute; and Harold McKain, who won 18 games and lost 6 for Decatur.

Another youngster who may make the grade is Jimmy Moore, who won 15 games and lost 8 for Little Rock. Kenneth Holloway, acquired along with Tavener from the Tigers, may show better in his new surroundings. He won 4 and lost 8 for the Tigers last season.

The hold-over pitchers are Shaute, Hudlin, Miller, Grant and Miljus, who threw the famous wild pitch in the 1927 world series.

Art Autry, Luke Sewell and Glenn Myatt will again compose the catching staff.

The Indians' probable squad follows:

Pitchers—Shaute, Hudlin, Grant, Holloway, Miller, Miljus, Brown, Farrell, McKain, Moore.

Infield—Hodapp or Bolton at first base, Lind at second, Tavener at shortstop, Sewell at third, Fouseca and Gardner, reserves.

BRAINERD SKIERS TO SEEK HONORS AT MINNEAPOLIS SUN.

TOURNAMENT AT GLENWOOD

DIVISION; PROMINENT SKI-

Jake Preston, assistant county highway engineer, and Harold Flaata, Brainerd, will compete in the Northwest Ski Meet at Glenwood Park, Minneapolis, Sunday morning and afternoon.

The two will leave Brainerd Sunday morning by car. Flaata will compete in the junior division and Preston will enter the senior division.

The ski championship of the northwest will be decided at this meet.

Many prominent ski jumpers of the northwest are expected to compete for honors Sunday.

The jumps at Glenwood Park are comparatively new to the Brainerd entries although Preston jumped there three years ago.

BOSTON FINANCE COMMISSION SOCKS 'EM ALL

TIVITY SPONSORING SUNDAY

ATTACKS COUNCILMAN LYNCH
WITH BOSTON BRAVES

Boston, Feb. 8.—(UP)—Vigorous criticism of everyone connected with charges that bribes had been sought to assure passage of the Sunday sports bill by the city council, was contained in the report of the Boston finance commission today.

Prominent among those criticized were: Judge Emil Fuchs, president of the Boston Braves, "for his activity in sponsoring the Sunday sports bill."

Councilman William G. Lynch, "for his intimate connection with officials of the Boston Braves."

Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols "for his gratuitous aspersions on the city council."

"The midnight meeting attended by Fuchs, Lynch and Dan Carroll, a fight promoter."

The report added that "the commission has unearthed an array of very suspicious circumstances, supported by the charge of Fuchs that a bribe was solicited, but denied by Lynch and Carroll."

The meeting referred to was held in Fuchs' hotel suite. At that time, Fuchs charged, Lynch demanded $65,000 to assure the passage of the sports bill by the city council.

Fuchs Also Manager

Judge Fuchs himself, new manager of the Braves, succeeding Roger Hornsby, who goes to the Chicago Cubs for the trifling of $100,000 cash and trade of five players. The judge, shown in the uniform and looking like business, is ready to catch something. He will continue as president of the Wigwam club.

Strong Grip Needed by Ball Pitchers

Pitchers need a strong grip in the throwing hand. They don't grip the ball hard, but they give it a snap with the first and second finger as they let it go to make it twirl more, and to do that they need a strong grip.

Red Faber worked on exercises for years to develop his grip, and once it saved his life.

When he was a kid, Red liked to flip freights. One day he tackled one that was moving a little too fast for him. He got his right hand on the bar when the speed of the train flipped him off his feet. His grip was strong enough to hold; if it had broken he would have been broken under the train.

Red quit flipping freights right after that.

Ray Miller and Walter Gerber Could Not Agree

When Ray Miller and Walter Gerber played together on the Columbus team in the American association they always were in an argument. It didn't matter whether it was a question of astronomy or how to handle an infield boulder, they never could agree.

As usual, one day, something was started and Miller asked Gerber a question, "I don't know," answered the honest Gerber.

"Oh, then that's a case of where ignorance is bliss," was Miller's comeback, making use of an old bromide he probably didn't quite get himself, but he knew what he meant—he wanted to infer that Walter Gerber was a dumb-bell.

"Well, if that is so, you're a blister," was the way Gerber ended the argument, and he walked away, leaving Miller alone to figure out what that might mean.

The Cat Is Snarling Again

By QUIN HALL.
ACE HUDKINS, the Nebraska Wildcat, having successfully disposed of Rene De Vos, the Belgian Fox, is again on the trail of Mickey Walker for another crack at the middleweight title.

Hudkins, by socking down all of the competition in sight, deserves this second shot at the Toy Bulldog, especially after the adverse criticism which followed the handing of the decision to Walker in Chicago last Summer in rain-soaked Comiskey Park. But whether or not he will get it is a can of oysters of an entirely different brand.

If Walker will not give Hudkins a return match—and there are those who figure he hasn't any more chance of getting it than a Cuban has of catching chills if he stays at home—then Ace may hang up his mittens and quit the racket. He intimated last Summer that he would do just this if he couldn't get the Bulldog back in a ring during the Winter, and while the announcement wasn't taken seriously at the time, he has since renewed the subject and the boys are beginning to believe that he is in earnest. Ace is a great drawing card because he always puts up a battle and he has won many of his scraps after being stung plenty of the opposition. The "Cat" is one of these birds who comes from behind nicely and doing this makes him a great favorite with the fans who like their action. Hudkins never disappoints them. But the Nebraskan has had a rough and seamy career in the roped arena and if he can't get a crack at a title when he is most surely in line for it then he figures that it is time to retire and he's very likely to do it.

Walker was supposed to meet the winner of the Hudkins-De Vos duel, but under the slick management of Jack Kearns the Bulldog is likely to avoid the issue. Kearns believes in keeping his champions well under cover and there'll be plenty of parrying before the match is made—if ever. The side for such a battle would be a problem unless the boys can decide on New York City. Ace will never again attempt to lift the crown off Mickey's dome in Chicago and Ace is too big a favorite on the Pacific Coast for Walker to want to take the chance surrounded by oranges and sunshine. With new arenas at Detroit and Boston there is a possibility in two other spots. But it's a question whether it ever will materialize. And that despite the fact that it would be a sell-out wherever and whenever staged.

Hudkins, born almost in poverty, has built up a sizable fortune in the ring, but he doesn't like the game nearly as much as his actions when in the ring would indicate. He is still a youngster in years, but he's seen lots of active service in the squared circle. He started in as a wrestler when he was fourteen years old but quickly discovered that if he was to cash in on his efforts he would have to take up back busting. For a long time his earnings, even in the ring, were meager but eventually his name became noised about and he was able to demand and get sizable purses. His first big Eastern engagement was against Ruby Goldstein and Ruby who, at the time, was considered quite a comer. He has never really fully recovered from the pasting he received from the Cat.

From that time on Hudkins has taken them as they come. He has never asked for any plush cushions and he has given the fans a real run for their money every time he has gone to the post. Today Ace ranks as one of the best "cards" in the entire fistic layout and yet he is figuring on retiring because he cannot get Mickey Walker, the king of the middleweights, to step into a ring with him.

It's pretty tough when a fighter of the Hudkins type has to retire because of a thing like that.

EXPECT SHARKEY-STIBLING FIGHT TO GROSS $300,000

IN ARENA AT MIAMI BEACH

CAREY, MILLIONAIRE PROMOTER,
FIGHT IS ON"

JACK SHARKEY IS TODAY PER-
AT TAMPA

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 8.—(UP)—Shortly before sunrise today, W. G. Carey, millionaire railroad builder and promoter of the Sharkey-Stibling fight, laid down some papers he had been inspecting and said happily, "Well, boys, the fight is on."

The scene was laid in a magnificent residence on the ocean front which Carey has taken as his headquarters. Carey's companions were Joe Boylton and Benny Bennett, box office men of Madison Square Garden, who had just laid before him the figures showing orders for seats of $200,000.

"Tex Rickard had started this thing and expecting to lose we were going through with it. Now, we are going to make money," Carey said.

Carey and Jack Dempsey were congratulating themselves today, saying the fight will gross more than $300,000, which will leave them in the clear, something neither expected.

When the big arena in Flamingo Park is completed next Tuesday, 43,000 seats will be available.

"Why," said one, "these seats are better than ringside."

They did not know the stands are to be moved back to allow for thirty rows of ringside seats.

Those bleachers are likely to be backed up close to Biscayne Bay by fight night.

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 8.—Jack Sharkey, the lonesome Lithuanian, who meets Bill Stibling in Miami Beach's heralded ring battle Feb. 27, had deserted this city today to perform for the Shriners of Tampa.

The Bostonian left last night for the Florida west coast where he will appear in a benefit exhibition show. He appeared in high spirits and predicted that three good blows would take care of his opponents of the evening.

Sharkey has gained the 'lonesome' appellation since his arrival here. Of all connected with the big fight, he alone seems unable to attract a crowd when he appears in public.

HIGH FIVE OFF TO PINE RIVER

TERMS; BRAINERD LOOKS
TO VICTORY

Coach Warren Kaseh and his revamped cage team were off for Pine River this afternoon to play the Pine River high school this evening.

Pine River lost to Crosby-Ironton last Friday by the score of 28 to 18. Brainerd also lost to Crosby-Ironton which should give the two teams an even break in strength tonight.

But a new team in spirit than the one that lost to Crosby-Ironton will oppose Pine River tonight.

The locals hope to make this a successful week by winning tonight, thus making two wins this week, the first win being over Bemidji Tuesday evening by the score of 16 to 15.

TIGERS MEET PEQUOT HIGH SECONDS TONIGHT

The Tigers basketball team of the Y. M. C. A. will meet the Pequot high school team at Pequot tonight.

The local team has been successful in winning all out of town games this season, defeating Crosby and Little Falls.

BABE RUTH CELEBRATES HIS 35TH BIRTHDAY

MANY CHANGES ARE MADE IN THE CLEVELAND INDIANS

WITHOUT NUMBERS
THIS YEAR

AND CATCHER

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Feb. 8.—It may be difficult to recognize the Cleveland Indians without numbers the coming season.

The familiar figures of George Burns, Homer Summa, Garland Buckeye, George Uhle, Emil Levens, Geo. Gerken and Elton Langford will be missing.

In building the Indians for the coming campaign, Billy Evans, general manager, and Roger Peckinpaugh, playing manager, have acquired 20 new players out of 35 on the roster.

Changes will be made at every position except second base, left field and behind the bat. The infield will be revamped with Lou Fouseca who broke his leg last season; Cliff Bolton, who hit .316 for Terre Haute; and Johnny Hodapp, former third baseman, contesting for first base. Carl Lind will be stationed at second and Joe Sewell will be moved from shortstop to third base.

Jackie Tavener, obtained from Detroit in the Uhle trade; John Burnett, who hit .326 for Terre Haute; Ray Gardner, who hit .303 for New Orleans, and John Goldman, who hit .275 for Decatur, will fight it out for shortstop. Burnett is a former University of Florida football star and is noted for his speed. Gardner was regarded as the best shortstop in the Southern League last year.

The Indians are still searching for some one to take the place of Tris Speaker. They hope Dick Porter, purchased from Baltimore for $40,000, will be able to plug the center-field gap. In eight years for Baltimore Porter batted for a grand average of .333. Charley Jamieson again will play left, but right will have a new gardener, probably Earl Averill, the $50,000 rookie from San Francisco.

Averill batted .353 in 1928. He hit 37 home runs last season.

Charley Dorman who hit .408 for the Tyler, Texas, Lone Star League club; John Gill, who hit .311 for the Decatur team and Ollie Tucker from New Orleans are other outfield candidates.

Ed Morgan, who suffered from injuries last season but batted .313 in 76 games, also will try for the outfield.

Among the nine new hurriers are several with exceptional promise. Three of the most prominent are Clint Brown, who won 23 games and lost 8 for the Harrisburg, Pa., club of the New York-Pennsylvania League; Wesley Farrell, who won 18 games and lost 9 for Terre Haute, and Harold McKain, who won 18 games and lost 6 for Decatur.

Another youngster who may make the grade is Jimmy Moore, who won 15 games and lost 8 for Little Rock. Kenneth Holloway, acquired along with Tavener from the Tigers, may show better in his new surroundings. He won 4 and lost 8 for the Tigers last season.

The hold-over pitchers are Shaute, Hudlin, Miller, Grant and Miljus, who threw the famous wild pitch in the 1927 world series.

Art Autry, Luke Sewell and Glenn Myatt will again compose the catching staff.

The Indians' probable squad follows:

Infield—Hodapp or Bolton at first base, Lind at second, Tavener at shortstop, Sewell at third, Fouseca and Gardiner, reserves.

BRAINERD SKIERS TO SEEK HONORS AT MINNEAPOLIS SUN.

TOURNAMENT AT GLENWOOD PARK; PRESTON TO JUMP

ERS TO GATHER

Jake Preston, assistant county highway engineer, and Harold Flaata, Brainerd, will compete in the Northwest Ski Meet at Glenwood Park, Minneapolis, Sunday morning and afternoon.

The two will leave Brainerd Sunday morning by car. Flaata will compete in the junior division and Preston will enter the senior division.

The ski championship of the northwest will be decided at this meet.

Many prominent ski jumpers of the northwest are expected to compete for honors Sunday.

The jumps at Glenwood Park are comparatively new to the Brainerd entries although Preston jumped there three years ago.

BOSTON FINANCE COMMISSION SOCKS 'EM ALL

ATTACKS COUNCILMAN LYNCH
WITH BOSTON BRAVES

Boston, Feb. 8.—(UP)—Vigorous criticism of everyone connected with charges that bribes had been sought to assure passage of the Sunday sports bill by the city council, was contained in the report of the Boston finance commission today.

Prominent among those criticized were: Judge Emil Fuchs, president of the Boston Braves, "for his activity in sponsoring the Sunday sports bill," Councilman William G. Lynch, "for his intimate connection with officials of the Boston Braves," Mayor Malcolm E. Nichols "for his gratuitous aspersions on the city council."

"The midnight meeting attended by Fuchs, Lynch and Dan Carroll, a fight promoter,"

The report added that "the commission has unearthed an array of very suspicious circumstances, supported by the charge of Fuchs that a bribe was solicited, but denied by Lynch and Carroll."

CHARGED WITH WHIPPING PEDDLER

Mrs. Agnes Michael of Hinsdale, Ill., who in Des Plaines, Ill., court faces charges of beating Max Steinborn, peddler, with whip. Mrs. Michael says that Steinborn was abusing his horse when she seized whip from his hand and beat him.

in Fuchs' hotel suite. At that time, Fuchs charged, Lynch demanded $65,000 to assure the passage of the sports bill by the city council.

Judge Fuchs himself, new manager of the Braves, succeeding Roger Hornsby, who goes to the Chicago Cubs for the trifling of $100,000 cash and trade of five players. The judge, shown in the uniform and looking like business, is ready to catch something. He will continue as president of the Wigwam club.

Strong Grip Needed by Ball Pitchers

Pitchers need a strong grip in the throwing hand. They don't grip the ball hard, but they give it a snap with the first and second finger as they let it go to make it twirl more, and to do that they need a strong grip.

Red Faber worked on exercises for years to develop his grip, and once it saved his life.

When he was a kid, Red liked to flip freights. One day he tackled one that was moving a little too fast for him. He got his right hand on the bar when the speed of the train flipped him off his feet. His grip was strong enough to hold; if it had broken he would have been thrown under the train.

Red quit flipping freights right after that.

Ray Miller and Walter Gerber Could Not Agree

When Ray Miller and Walter Gerber played together on the Columbus team in the American association they always were in an argument. It didn't matter whether it was a question of astronomy or how to handle an infield boulder, they never could agree.

As usual, one day, something was started and Miller asked Gerber a question. "I don't know," answered the honest Gerber.

"Oh, then that's a case of where ignorance is bliss," was Miller's comeback, making use of an old bromide he probably didn't quite get himself, but he knew what he meant—he wanted to infer that Walter Gerber was a dumb-bell.

"Well, if that is so, you're a blither," was the way Gerber ended the argument, and he walked away, leaving Miller alone to figure out what that might mean.

HUDKINS ON MICKEY WALKER'S TRAIL!

SPRING ELECTION SET FOR APRIL 2

Present Office Holders and Others
Contemplating Filing Retirent

VOTE ON 16 OFFICES

Terms of Five Alderman, Five School Board Members
Expire

Although the traditional city political pot has not even started to simmer, the kindling is being put in place preparatory for lighting.

The city spring election will be held April 2.

An exhaustive search was conducted this morning in an attempt to find any newcomers in the field or to secure statements of present office holders as to whether they would enter the race again this year.

"Confidentially, I am going to run again this year but please do not report it yet. You would only be starting the campaign off too early and you know—political campaigns are expensive," said one present office holder today.

Others were undecided whether they would compete again at the election this spring but wished not to be quoted at this date.

Still others did not wish to express themselves as they believed it would result in a large field opposing them.

Offices to be voted on this spring are: mayor, treasurer, attorney, assessor, municipal judge, special municipal judge.

The terms of five aldermen expire this year and these will also be voted on. These offices are held at the present by W. J. Lyons, first ward; Martin Anderson, second ward; V. F. Anderson, third ward; V. E. Quastrom, fourth ward; C. G. Holmstrom, fifth ward.

School board members whose terms expire this year are: Fred Drexler, first ward; G. D. LaBar, second ward; R. W. Crust, third ward; Andrew Anderson, fourth ward; and F. M. Hagberg, fifth ward.

City offices to be elected this spring are at present held by: Mayor, F. E. Little; Attorney, D. H. Fullerton; Municipal Judge, J. H. Warner; Special Municipal Judge, George Erickson; Treasurer, Richard Ise; Assessor, M. E. Hitch.

Flared Satin Frock Is Decorated With Bows

A happy compromise between the flared and straight silhouette is brought about with the aid of a diagonal seam in a smartly symmetrical line as shown in the frock illustrated from the Woman's Home Companion. Bows are also included in this fashion picture, one on the shoulder and the other terminating a crushed girdle on the same side. And yet the lines are extremely simple, suitable for lightweight kasha, flat crepe or heavy crepe de chine as well as the more formal crepe satin pictured above or transparent velvet. And if you would add a touch of greater formality, the neck and cuffs might be faced with cream lace and the material cut out underneath.

Lace Gowns Featured by Designers for Evening

Lace is being used by some of the best designers for their latest evening models. Few of the white and cream laces are shown except chantilly, and of this, black chantilly has added to the popularity of all-black evening gowns. It is made over black net with rhinestone, silver or jet trimming and in some unusual combinations of black and white.

A stunning dance frock of black chantilly lace is made with a flounced skirt with tiers gathered quite full and with a band of white tulle sewn along the edges. A large, graceful motif of jet and rhinestones is placed at one side of the waist, which is finished about its decollete neck and armholes with a band of tulle.

Dry Skim Milk Being Used by Many Bakers

According to Dr. H. E. Van Norman, dairy expert of Chicago, dry skim milk is being used by the better bakers to improve the nutritional value of their products, as well as their physical characteristics. It is also largely used in the making of biscuits and crackers and in the preparation of macaroni, prepared flours and for sausage filling. Large quantities of the powder also go into the making of ice cream, chocolates and confections of various kinds. Superior grades of cottage cheese have been made with it, and in communities where the demand exceeds the supply from actual churning, cultured buttermilk is prepared by reconstituting dry skim milk and inoculation with pure cultures of lactic acid bacteria.

The Romance that ended so soon

Her version: What a disappointment Bob had been! Once he was always bright and cheery—well-groomed. Then something happened. Bob became careless. Seemed to lose his ambition. Even his appearance was affected. Why, she was actually ashamed of him now!

His version: What had come over Mary? Two years ago he had been so much in love with her. But these days she was always so cross. Her old-time youth and charm had fled. True, he'd slipped somewhat, himself. But, Mary...

What a tragedy that constipation can wreck so much happiness! It begins with such little things—headaches, listlessness. But it eventually saps the strongest body, and may lead to serious disease. ## SPRING ELECTION SET FOR APRIL 2

Contemplating Filing Retirent

VOTE ON 16 OFFICES

Terms of Five Alderman, Five School
Board Members
Expire

Although the traditional city political pot has not even started to simmer, the kindling is being put in place preparatory for lighting.

The city spring election will be held April 2.

An exhaustive search was conducted this morning in an attempt to find any newcomers in the field or to secure statements of present office holders as to whether they would enter the race again this year.

"Confidentially, I am going to run again this year but please do not report it yet. You would only be starting the campaign off too early and you know—political campaigns are expensive," said one present office holder today.

Others were undecided whether they would compete again at the election this spring but wished not to be quoted at this date.

Still others did not wish to express themselves as they believed it would result in a large field opposing them.

Offices to be voted on this spring are: mayor, treasurer, attorney, assessor, municipal judge, special municipal judge.

The terms of five aldermen expire this year and these will also be voted on. These offices are held at the present by W. J. Lyons, first ward; Martin Anderson, second ward; V. F. Anderson, third ward; V. E. Quamstrom, fourth ward; C. G. Holmstrom, fifth ward.

School board members whose terms expire this year are: Fred Drexler, first ward; G. D. LaBar, second ward; R. W. Crust, third ward; Andrew Anderson, fourth ward; and F. M. Hagberg, fifth ward.

City offices to be elected this spring are at present held by: Mayor, F. E. Little; Attorney, D. H. Fullerton; Municipal Judge, J. H. Warner; Special Municipal Judge, George Erickson; Treasurer, Richard Ilse; Assessor, M. E. Hitch.

Eloquent Money

Flared Satin Frock Is Decorated With Bows

A happy compromise between the flared and straight silhouette is brought about with the aid of a diagonal seam in a smartly symmetrical line as shown in the frock illustrated from the Woman's Home Companion. Bows are also included in this fashion picture, one on the shoulder and the other terminating a crushed girdle on the same side. And yet the lines are extremely simple, suitable for lightweight kasha, flat crepe or heavy crepe de chine as well as the more formal crepe satin pictured above or transparent velvet. And if you would add a touch of greater formality, the neck and cuffs might be faced with cream lace and the material cut out underneath.

Lace Gowns Featured by Designers for Evening

Lace is being used by some of the best designers for their latest evening models. Few of the white and cream laces are shown except chintilly, and of this, black chintilly has added to the popularity of all-black evening gowns. It is made over black net with rhinestone, silver or jet trimming, and in some unusual combinations of black and white.

A stunning dance frock of black chintilly lace is made with a flounced skirt with tiers gathered quite full and with a band of white tulle sewn along the edges. A large, graceful motif of jet and rhinestones is placed at one side of the waist, which is finished about its decollete neck and armholes with a band of tulle.

Dyed laces are shown in many lovely colors for evening, some in vivid purples, greens, scarlet and orange, others in all of the tones of orchid, in the pastels and in delicate evening shades.

Dry Skim Milk Being

Used by Many Bakers

According to Dr. H. E. Van Norman, dairy expert of Chicago, dry skim milk is constantly increasing quantities is being used by the better bakers to improve the nutritional value of their products, as well as their physical characteristics. It is also largely used in the making of biscuits and crackers and in the preparation of macaroni, prepared flours and for sausage filling. Large quantities of the powder also go into the making of ice cream, chocolates and confections of various kinds. Superior grades of cottage cheese have been made with it, and in communities where the demand exceeds the supply from actual churning, cultured buttermilk is prepared by reconstituting dry skim milk and inoculating with pure cultures of lactic acid bacteria.

Facsimile

"Are you sure this is your mother's signature on this excuse?" a teacher asked, as she doubted its genuineness. "Yes, er, as near as I could make it," was the admission after some stammering.

Shame in Despair

"To give over to despair," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown. "Is to confess that you have become too indolent to face the task merely of living."—Washington Star.

PAST EXALTED RULERS HONORED

Occupy Chairs of Officers at the First February Meeting of the Brainerd Elks Lodge

2 EULOGIES DELIVERED

House and Social Committee Serves
Fine Luncheon. Program Closes
the Meeting

Past Exalted Rulers of Brainerd
Lodge No. 615 of the Elks were honored at last night's meeting and occupied the chairs of the officers.
Here is how they were placed:

Exalted Ruler, R. R. Gould.
Esteemed Leading Knight, John A.
Hoffbauer.

Esteemed Loyal Knight, Wm. V.
Turcotte.

Esteemed Lecturing Knight, Fred
Allison.

Secretary, John J. Cummings.

Esquire, J. J. Nolan.

Chaplain, A. J. Ellison.

Tyler, R. G. Jenkins.

Inner Guard, Dr. A. K. Cohen.

Over 100 members were in attendance and a number of visitors. The hall was reverently silent when an-
of Mal Clark and Col. A. J. Halsted.

A touching and eloquent eulogy for Mal Clark was delivered by G. S.
Swanson, a brother attorney, who recited the accomplishments of the deceased and recounted his high standing at the bar. The eulogy for
Col. Halsted was delivered by John
A. Hoffbauer.

The house and social committee served a fine luncheon of rolled beef
roast, spaghetti, Parker House rolls, hot coffee. The spaghetti was especially prepared by Mrs. A. K. Cohen.

After this came a short program of which the prominent numbers were three piano selections by young Marion Newman and a boxing exhibition between Louis Rofidal and Earl Fuller.

ROADS ARE IN UNCERTAIN SHAPE

Frequent light snows and winds
have kept road conditions in a state
of uncertainty during the past week,
according to the weekly road condition report issued by the State Highway department today. In the southwestern and west central portions of the state drifting has made heavy going on many of the routes. Snowplows have opened all routes once a day but they are not always able to keep them open all day. The department advises all persons planning trips through the open country to carry chains and shovels and be prepared for possible delays.

northern Minnesota and in the semi-wooded districts in eastern and southeastern Minnesota are all open
and generally good.

The new route on T. H. No. 2, between Aitkin and McGregor has been completed and opened to traffic and is reported good.

The bridge over the Boy river on
T. H. No. 34 near Remer has been limited to two ton loads.

Roads in Brainerd district are as follows:

T. H. No. 2 — Duluth, Brainerd, Wadena, Detroit Lakes and Moorhead—269 miles—Duluth, paved—Carlton, good — Hawley, paved —
Moorhead.

T. H. No. 18—Elk River, Milaca
and Brainerd—103 miles—Good.

T. H. No. 19—Brainerd, Walker
and Cass Lake—93 miles—Good.

T. H. No. 27 — St. Cloud, Little Falls and Brainerd—62 miles—Paved.

Wheat Free of Duty

Wheat in bond means wheat imported from Canada by American mills
to be ground and the flour to be exported. By this arrangement it is not necessary for the mills to pay the duty.

Second Wind

The runner finds, if his body is in good condition, that after much exertion he comes into what is called a second wind. Mind workers might discover a second wind also if they didn't quit at the first attack of trivial weariness.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

Those Conducted by Rev. Beatty in Full Swing at Full Gospel
Assembly

The evangelistic services at the Full Gospel Assembly with Rev.
Beatty in charge are in full swing.
The evangelist spoke last night on
the "Three Mounts, Sinai, Calvary and Zion." Mount Sinai where the law was given which is the schoolmaster that brings us to Christ, that is, makes us realize that we have sinned and come short of God's law and are in need of Christ. Mount Calvary
where we find a place to be cleansed
from our sins and Mount Zion where we find joy, happiness and power in the Christian life.

The evangelist used as his text Psalm 24:34. "Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in His holy place? He that hath clean hands and a pure heart;
who hath not lifted up his soul unto vanity, nor sworn deceitfully."

TWO ALARMS IN PAST 24 HOURS

Overheated Stove Causes Blaze at 1302 Park: Smoke Damage at 509 North Bluff

The Brainerd Fire Department answered two alarms in the past 24
hours, the first being at 5 p. m. yesterday at the home of Mrs. William Thomas, 1302 Park street where an overheated stove caused a small blaze.

The blaze was quickly extinguished
with little damage by chemicals.

At 12:25 a. m. the department answered a call to the home of M. J.
Hanson, 509 North Bluff avenue.
Although there was smoke in the house there was no evidence of a fire.
Cause of the smoke was undetermined. The damage was slight.

ing officers. Mrs. Sarah E. Matthews, past department president of Minneapolis, introduced by Mrs. Fox, acted as installing officer, assisted by Commander Fox. Making sure that the per capita tax was paid, and the bonding of the treasurer was thoroughly understood, she proceeded to install the following officers:

President—Mrs. Henrietta Fox.
Junior Vice—Mrs. Ellen S. Minske.
Treasurer—Miss Ada Dye.
Chaplin—Mrs. Mary A. Stevens.
Conductress—Mrs. Shirley Rhodes.
Assistant Conductress—Miss Viola
McKay.

Guard—Mrs. Lizzie I. Britton.

Registrar—Mrs. Henrietta Fox.

Following the installation, Mrs.
Matthews made an informal address emphasizing the high calling of the membership in the ladies of the G. A. R.
Mrs. Fox responded giving her assurance of faithful stewardship.
She then presented Mrs. Matthews with a set of candle sticks in behalf of the sisters of the order, in appreciation of her faithfulness, and vital interest in this chapter.

Mrs. Sarah Matthews is a guest at the home of Mrs. Fox during her stay in Brainerd.

2 EULOGIES DELIVERED

House and Social Committee Serves
Fine Luncheon, Program Closes
the Meeting

Past Exalted Rulers of Brainerd
Lodge No. 615 of the Elks were honored at last night's meeting and occupied the chairs of the officers.
Here is how they were placed:

Exalted Ruler, R. R. Gould.
Esteemed Leading Knight, John A.
Hoffbauer.
Esteemed Loyal Knight, Wm. V.
Turcotte.

Allison.

Secretary, John J. Cummings.
Esquire, J. J. Nolan.
Chaplain, A. J. Ellison.
Tyler, R. G. Jenkins.

Inner Guard, Dr. A. K. Cohen.

Over 100 members were in attendance and a number of visitors. The hall was reverently silent when announcement was made of the deaths
of Mal Clark and Col. A. J. Halsted.
A touching and eloquent eulogy for Mal Clark was delivered by G. S.
Swanson, a brother attorney, who
recited the accomplishments of the deceased and recounted his high standing at the bar. The eulogy for
Col. Halsted was delivered by John
A. Hoffbauer.

served a fine luncheon of rolled beef

hot coffee. The spaghetti was especially prepared by Mrs. A. K. Cohen.
After this came a short program of which the prominent numbers were Marion Newman and a boxing exhibition between Louis Rofidal and Earl Fuller.

ROADS ARE IN UNCERTAIN SHAPE

Frequent light snows and winds
have kept road conditions in a state
of uncertainty during the past week,
according to the weekly road condition report issued by the State Highway department today. In the southwestern and west central portions of the state drifting has made heavy
going on many of the routes. Snow-
plows have opened all routes once a day but they are not always able to keep them open all day. The department advises all persons planning
trips through the open country to carry chains and shovels and be prepared for possible delays.

Roads in the timbered district in northern Minnesota and in the semi-wooded districts in eastern and southeastern Minnesota are all open
and generally good.

The new route on T. H. No. 2, between Aitkin and McGregor has been completed and opened to traffic and
is reported good.

The bridge over the Boy river on
T. H. No. 34 near Remer has been limited to two ton loads.

Roads in Brainerd district are as
follows:

T. H. No. 2 — Duluth, Brainerd,
Wadena, Detroit Lakes and Moor-
head—260 miles—Duluth, paved—Carlton, good — Hawley, paved—
Moorhead.

T. H. No. 18—Elk River, Milaca
and Brainerd—103 miles—Good.

T. H. No. 19—Brainerd, Walker
and Cass Lake—93 miles—Good.

T. H. No. 27 — St. Cloud, Little Falls and Brainerd—62 miles—Paved.

Wheat Free of Duty

Wheat in bond means wheat imported from Canada by American mills
to be ground and the flour to be exported. By this arrangement it is not necessary for the mills to pay the duty.

Second Wind

The runner finds, if his body is in good condition, that after much exertion he comes into what is called a second wind. Mind workers might discover a second wind also if they didn't quit at the first attack of trivial weariness.

EVANGELISTIC SERVICES

Those Conducted by Rev. Beatty in Full Swing at Full Gospel
Assembly

Full Gospel Assembly with Rev.
Beatty in charge are in full swing.
The evangelist spoke last night on
the "Three Mounts, Sinai, Calvary
and Zion." Mount Sinai where the law was given which is the schoolmaster that brings us to Christ, that is, makes us realize that we have sinned and come short of God's law and
are in need of Christ. Mount Calvary
where we find a place to be cleansed
from our sins and Mount Zion where
we find joy, happiness and power in the Christian life.

The evangelist used as his text
Psalm 24:34. "Who shall ascend into
the hill of the Lord? or who shall stand in His holy place? He that hath clean hands and a pure heart;
who hath not lifted up his soul unto
vanity, nor sworn deceitfully."

TWO ALARMS IN PAST 24 HOURS

Overheated Stove Causes Blaze at 1302 Park; Smoke Damage at
509 North Bluff

The Brainerd Fire Department answered two alarms in the past 24
hours, the first being at 5 p. m. yesterday at the home of Mrs. William Thomas, 1302 Park street where an overheated stove caused a small
blaze.

The blaze was quickly extinguished
with little damage by chemicals.

At 12:25 a. m. the department answered a call to the home of M. J.
Hanson, 509 North Bluff avenue.
Although there was smoke in the
house there was no evidence of a fire.
Cause of the smoke was undeter-

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR.

IRENE ROBELINE, in love with handsome Guinn Holden, the young Texas town minister, is bitterly disappointed when he marries Lilith, a beautiful blonde who had boasted that she would force him to propose to her. A year later Lilith dies during childbirth. Irene then marries Holden, believing he could be made to forget the past and make her happy with his love. Before this event she had rejected Will Lundy, the town doctor, in love with her. With Will she organized a meeting to uphold the pastor when the deacons of the church tried to expel a member for drunkenness. After marriage Irene devoted her whole life to Guinn's comfort and success. With Lilith, the baby, she found a more difficult problem, as her father had thoroughly spoiled her. In her he constantly saw the picture of his dead wife—the same golden hair, blue eyes and soft pink skin. Irene knew that Mattie Anson, the town gossip, was aware of Holden's spiritual loyalty to the dead Lilith. When Irene's child was born she believed Guinn's love would be fully hers. Instead he entered the room with Lilith in his arms "to see Lilith's little sister." After eighteen years of married life Irene finds the same unseen barrier—Holden loves and spoils the beautiful Lilith, now graduated from college, while Tina, Ross and Lundy, Irene's own children by him, occupy lesser stations in his heart and mind. "Lilith is older," was his answer to Irene's remonstrations when Lilith was favored, and Lilith knew how to get her selfish wishes gratified by her father. Towards Patricia, the youngest child, Lilith had shown little interest, never exerting herself to care for her. Tina, on the contrary, was a lovely, dark-eyed child, always "second to Lilith" in everything who looked after Patricia like a little mother. Now, with the girls grown up, Lilith wanted to study voice culture in New York and Paris. Tina, who has a talent for drawing, wants also to have an opportunity to study in New York.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

CHAPTER XXIV.
IRENE AND GUINN were sitting on the porch that afternoon, with Julius Lawton and Will Lundy and old Art Rakestraw, who had dropped in to see the girls just home from college. The two girls and the young men from Dallas were on the lawn, and Patricia was playing with her puppy beside them.

"Don't tread on our toes, Pat," said Lilith, as she looked with disfavor at the child who had come a little too near her in her romping. "Couldn't you be just as happy with your dog at the other end of the lawn?"

Pat looked hurt. "No, not as happy. I couldn't hear what you all were saying if I was away off there."

"Is it necessary that you should hear?"

"Yes, I think so. Only time I can listen to young men talk in 'resting is when I stick around you. Young men don't never come to see me yet."

"They'll come in droves one of these days," said Roger Devereaux. "You've got the sort of eyes that draw them. I can see." He pretended to look carefully into the brown eyes lifted eagerly to his.

"Come around on this side by me, Patsy, with your pup," said Tina.

"Tina is still the peacemaker," commented Will, as the group on the lawn moved a little farther away out of their hearing.

Julius Lawton, the bank president, laughingly said to Irene, "I understand you are a professional matchmaker."

Irene wagged her head dolefully. "Wedding fees aren't all they're advertised to be. Not long ago a couple came, strange young folks, and I was gleefully spending that fee in my mind. But that dapper young bridegroom borrowed five dollars from Guinn instead of paying him anything!"

"Too bad," empathized the banker.

She gave her low, rich laugh. "My mother used to pray that no one of her children should ever have great riches, for they brought too much temptation. Well, I wish she hadn't prayed so hard, or else that the Lord could have picked out some other of her petitions to answer so thoroughly."

"Ain't Lilith beautiful?" said old Art Rakestraw, as she moved lightly across the grass in the sunlight. His faded, tired eyes lighted as they gazed at her.

"Yes, isn't she?" cried Guinn with the eagerness of a boy.

Yes, she was lovely. Irene's heart told her . . . with a still, calm beauty like a piece of sculptured perfection glowing with life. Her shining gold hair, her skin translucent as rosy pearl, her luminous eyes gave the beholder an impression that the girl glowed with some inner radiance of flesh itself . . . of flesh, not spirit.

"She is prettier even than her mother was," said Will Lundy. Art Rakestraw turned upon him with heat. "Nobody is prettier than Lilith. Nobody could be!"

Into Guinn's eyes came a remote look of dreams, of remembrance, and his gaze followed the girl on the lawn as if seeing another girl almost twenty years dead reincarnated in her.

Irene looked at Lilith, too, and compared her with her mother. She was less of an artless witch than her mother had been, without the deliberate and studied naivete. She didn't employ the other Lilith's obvious methods of capture where men were concerned. She had something of her father's poise and dignity, of quiet confidence, and her elusive indifference was more enchanting than pursuit would have been.

Lilith seemed faintly bored, as if life had not yet presented to her anything worth her effort to achieve or possess, slightly ironic, as if doubtful of the values on which others laid so much stress—yet with a suggestion of secret, subtle mirth in her eyes, keenly alive to all that went on. She did not care to chatter constantly as most girls did, but would often listen while others talked, and utter only an occasional remark, as if she would not exert herself to talk unless she were interested. And she could be silent gracefully, without giving offense.

As she stood on the lawn in her sunlight, she seemed pure sunlight herself, her golden hair bright with its thousand radiance, her eyes shining as with an inner mirth whose secret no one but herself knew, her skin flushed and glowing, her lips curved in a smile. No wonder the young men loved her, when her beauty had such a magical quality, and her voice, with its slight drawl, its delectable cadences, was as alluring to the ear as her face was to the eye.

Guinn said, "Yes, she encourages matrimony, fairly whoops it up, because the preacher's wife gets the wedding fees. Gives parties to get folks engaged."

Irene wagged her head dolefully. "Wedding fees aren't all they've advertised to be. Not long ago a couple came, strange young folks, and I was gleefully spending that fee in my mind. But that dapper young bridegroom borrowed five dollars from Guinn instead of paying him anything!"

"That young man will get on in this world," said Lawton. "And another one paid him two bits and said he'd give more later on the installment plan. But he never did."

"Maybe he decided his wife wasn't worth any more," suggested Guinn.

"Sometimes the marrieds don't play fair with the preacher's wife at all," complained Irene. "Sometimes they give the preacher presents instead of fees, things his wife couldn't use. One man gave Guinn a yellow dog that had mangle. Another gave him a pair of riding boots too small for him—and he hasn't a horse to ride, anyhow. I think I'll send out dodgers to say that the wedding fees belong to me and I'm very particular about what I take. Choosey, as Sheba says."

She laughed, then grew sober. "There's one disappointment I'll never get over. One of Guinn's college classmates wrote he was to be married and wanted Guinn to perform the ceremony. He accepted and I got a new dress and was thrilled over the prospect, for he might give me fifty or even a hundred dollars. Nobody ever had given Guinn that much for a fee, but I'm a reckless hoper, and I let my fancy loose." She paused.

"How much did it set him back?" asked Lawton.

She shot a look of reproach at her husband. "The day before the wedding one of the church members of the church took sick and swore she was going to die, and hollered for the pastor to come and hold her hand. She wouldn't accept any other hand, even mine. I offered to stay with her, even if I did have a new dress for the wedding. But Guinn, with his incorrigible conscience, stayed at home and held her hand. He wired his classmate to get another preacher. He did—and paid the other preacher a thousand dollars. A thousand dollars!" Her voice rose lugubriously. "And the old woman didn't have the decency to die after all!"

"Irene will hold that against me till she's a hundred years old," said Guinn.

"Too bad," empathized the banker.

She gave her low, rich laugh. "My mother used to pray that no one of her children should ever have great riches, for they brought too much temptation. Well, I wish she hadn't prayed so hard, or else that the Lord could have picked out some other of her petitions to answer so thoroughly."
